

FACOLTÀ DI ECONOMIA

SAPIENZA
UNIVERSITÀ DI ROMA

Which Germany after the Vote?

Post-electoral Reflections on the Largest European Democracy in collaboration with Phd Public, Comparative and International Law - Public Law of Economics

Opening Greetings

Susanne Marianne Wasum-Rainer, Ambassador of Federal Republic of Germany in Italy
Fabrizio D'Ascenzo, Dean of the Faculty of Economics Sapienza University of Rome

Introduction: Germany after the Vote

Roberto Miccú - Sapienza University of Rome

Germany and Italy, between Concluded and Forthcoming Elections

Beniamino Caravita di Toritto, Sapienza University of Rome

The German Party System after the 2017 General Elections

Thomas Poguntke, Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf

The Emergence of a New Cleavage in German Political Culture and the Rise of the Alternative für Deutschland

Werner J. Patzelt, Dresden University of Technology

The Impact of the German Party Regulation on the Elections and the Creation of the New Federal Government

Sophie Schönberger, University of Konstanz

Germany and Europe: the Consequences of the Elections on the EU Policies of the Federal Republic of Germany

Roberto Miccú - Sapienza University of Rome

Coffee break

Powers and Limits of the Unelected Federal Government

Jörg Luther, University of Piemonte Orientale "A. Avogadro"

The Role of the Federal President in the Creation of the New Federal Government

Andrea De Petris, University Giustino Fortunato, Benevento

The German Elections in the Media and in the Public Opinion

Udo Gümpel, Correspondent for RTL Broadcasting Group

Closing Remarks

Beniamino Caravita di Toritto, Sapienza University of Rome

Friday, 9 february 2018, h. 09:00

Sala delle Lauree - 1st floor

Faculty of Economics, 9 via del Castro Laurenziano, Rome