

JULIA SHORE PALUDAN
Curriculum Vitae

Name and surname: Julia SHORE PALUDAN

Date of birth: 29 October 1983

Place of birth: Copenhagen, Denmark

Nationality: Danish

Teaching and professional experience:

October 2012-up to date

Lecturer (collaboratore esperto linguistico) of Danish language: teaching Danish Grammar at beginner and upper intermediate level as well as working on translation projects and literature, Sapienza University, Rome, centre of Nordic Studies, Dipartimento di Scienze Documentarie, Linguistico-filologiche e Geografiche.

December 2013-2016

Teacher and instructor of English language for MIT- Ministero delle Infrastrutture e Trasporti, Roma: teacher and syllabus organiser of courses in General English for Ministry employees, level B1, B2 and C1; personal trainer on one-to-one classes in English for the Ministry and the Members of his Cabinet, as well as other members of the staff.

March - June 2016

Teacher and organiser of TESOL- Italy (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) English Language Improvement courses addressed to Italian teachers of English at school, Advanced level.

October 2014-March 2015

English language preparatory courses for Cambridge English Language Assessment and Certification, exam course level B1-B2 to Sapienza personnel group and researchers, Faculties of Human Letters and Oriental Studies, Sapienza University Rome.

October 2011-April 2014

English language remedial and preparatory Cambridge ESOL exam course level B1-B2, Faculty of Human Letters and Oriental Studies, Sapienza University, Rome.

March 2011-April 2013

English language teacher and instructor at Shenker Institute; English Language Centre in Rome; freelance work teaching English to Italian students of all ages, including corporate clients and off-site companies and businesses. Teaching method, consisting of intense practice on written and oral exercises, translation and phonetics.

January-July 2012

Contract professor of English at Dept. of Oriental Studies, Sapienza University, Rome, running curricular language course (level B1-B2) for first year students.

July 2010- February 2011

Freelance instructor, TESOL Teacher, teaching English to international students, also conducting TESOL Teacher training and observation, at LT&D, Waterloo House, Witney, Oxfordshire.

March 2009 – July 2010, July 2007-January 2008

Full time work teaching English to international students in large classes and small groups as well as one-to-one tuition. Other duties included: Writing personal reports and feedback forms on individual students, preparing lesson plans and interviewing students in oral entry test, at Oxford English Centre, Oxford.

January- August 2008

Teaching English to international students in small groups as well as one-to-one tuition. Report writing, grading and preparing lesson plans. Full time work at Maru-a-Pula Private School, Gaborone, Botswana.

September 2005-May 2006

English language teaching assistant at secondary school as part of 3rd year of BA Degree, at Gesamtschule Gummersbach, Germany.

Academic Qualifications:

2010

Master of Science (MSc) in Tourism; Environment and Development, Oxford Brookes University, Oxford. Grade B, 'Merit'

2007

Bachelor of Arts (BA) in German language, literature and culture, Royal Holloway, University of London. Grade 2:1 (Class II Division I - 60 to 69 out of 100)

2007

TESOL Certificate intensive course- Languages Training and Development, Waterloo House, Witney, Oxfordshire.

Languages:

English: Mother Tongue

Danish: Mother Tongue

Italian: Fluent written and spoken

German: High level of both written and spoken

French: High level of both written and spoken

Speaker at the following conferences:

"H.C. Andersen's use of anthropomorphism: conveying themes of pathos and hope" Hans Christian Andersen and Community Conference, 4-7 December 2017, Odense, Denmark.

Talk on "Some benefits of face-to-face language teaching". TESOL Italy's 42nd National Convention, November 17th-18th, 2017, Rome.

"The 'Other' Duckling - A psychological perspective on the unfamiliar and different in Hans Christian Andersen's life and fairy tales." Il diverso, il nemico, l'altro. Figure dell'alterità nelle letterature scandinave. 10th Italian Conference of Scandinavian Studies, University of Genova, 9-11 November 2017, Genoa.

"Teaching Danish at university level in Italy: the challenge of introducing HC Andersen's texts" Conference on the writer Hans Christian Andersen and teaching of his life and works, 20th January 2017, Rome.

Forthcoming publications:

Article from talk: "H.C. Andersen's use of anthropomorphism: conveying themes of pathos and hope" to be published as part of anthology of the Hans Christian Andersen and Community Conference, 4-7 December 2017, Odense, Denmark.

Article from talk "The 'Other' Duckling - A psychological perspective on the unfamiliar and different in Hans Christian Andersen's life and fairy tales." Il diverso, il nemico, l'altro. Figure dell'alterità nelle letterature scandinave. to be published as part of anthology for the 10th Italian Conference of Scandinavian Studies, University of Genova, 9-11 November 2017, Genoa.

Other Academic Related Activities:

Proofreading of articles for published anthology of conference held on 22-24 October, 2015, Sapienza Università di Roma, Rome: 'The Nordic Avant-gardes in the European Context of the Early 20th Century', Pagina Editore, Bari, 2017.

Transcription and translation from Danish into English of documentary about the Museum Louisiana, Humlebæk, Denmark - "L'altravista-memoria in movimento", March 2015.

Transcription and contribution to translation of book "The Reverse Grand Tour" and exhibition, held at GNAM, Galleria Nazionale d'Arte Moderna e Contemporanea, March 2013.

Date: 12/02/2018

Signature:

Julia SHORE PALUDAN