• Workload

Students should aim to complete credits ranging from 18-22 per semester. One credit equals approximately 30 hours of work, including both (real-time) classroom teaching and homework.

• Course Enrollment

Every student is issued a 12-digit number upon acceptance. This is your Student ID number which you need to use for course registration within the FIRST week of the new semester.

• Course Selection Within and Across Faculties

University level bilateral exchange students are required to choose the majority of their courses from one school or faculty, closest to their educational background. Exchange students need to have sufficient prior academic background in the disciplines taught at the receiving faculty.

Within two weeks since the new semester begins, depending on the course schedule of their receiving faculty, students can apply for courses from other faculties. Students should fill in the “Registration form to select another school’s courses” and ask their school and the school offering the course to sign and give their consent or dissent. In the third week, two copies of the application form should be submitted to the Overseas Students Affairs Office, BFSU, who will keep a record and notify the students’ school and the school offering the course for teaching preparation.

• Transcripts of Records

Please note that students are responsible for ordering their official transcript. Students can get one official hard copy of their transcript per semester free of charge from their host faculties, BFSU. Or, official paper transcripts are sent by post to their home institutions as especially requested.

Decisions regarding acceptance are made by faculties of Beijing Foreign Studies University. Acceptance information is available within 6 weeks after the application deadline. Usually, Accepted students receive formal acceptance letters as well as other visa-application materials from the Overseas Students Affairs Office. But during this global pandemic period, only an acceptance e-mail with an acceptance confirmation letter as an e-mail attachment is issued.

• Chinese visa

If you are qualified applicants, BFSU will send the admission letter, Visa Application Form for Study in China (JW202 Form), and other admission documents to the persons in charge in your home institution.

Please take all the admission documents to Chinese embassy or consulates in your place of residence to apply for the X visa (student visa).

• Tuition Fees

According to Article 6, Provisional Regulation on Charges for International Students at Beijing Foreign Studies University, “Tuition fees are denominated in Renminbi. Unless otherwise specified, academic students should pay one-off tuition fees for the academic year. Non-academic students pay one-off tuition fees for the semester. Tuition fees are paid on the first day for registration. (Based on the school calendar)”.
• Housing

If the student exchange agreement contains clear terms on accommodation, the terms will be followed. Exchange students coming under this bilateral agreement are guaranteed housing in our on-campus dormitories, but not necessarily the room type they have wished for.

Due to the limited on-campus dormitory resources, BFSU does not accept dormitory reservations for new students and will try to help arrange dormitory (bed) upon arrival.

If students choose to live off-campus, they must go to the local police station with the landlord to register the living address and get the Registration Form of Temporary Residence within 24 hours after moving in. Otherwise, students are not allowed to register at BFSU and the public security authorities will not conduct any visa procedures. • Other issues:

I. Applicants for students exchange programs should first confirm whether their home institutions have signed student exchange agreements with BFSU and whether they themselves have gained nomination.

II. The home institution should recommend qualified nominees according to the exchange agreement signed with BFSU, and send a formal nomination form to Beijing Foreign Studies University. The home institution shall be responsible for the authenticity, accuracy, completeness and validity of the form.

III. Gaining nomination from the home institution does not necessarily translate to the admission by BFSU. We reserve the right to refuse unqualified nominees according to our own judgement.

IV. Due to limited class capacity, applications to some courses may not be successful.
