ACADEMIC AND RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Dates (2023-ongoing) Measuring Empathy to Bridge Culture-Gaps in Character Virtue Development

Department of Psychology, Sapienza University of Rome.

Principal Investigators (PIs): principal investigators: David Lundie – University of Glasgow, Scotland; PI (Italy): Prof. Antonio Zuffianò, Sapienza University of Rome, Italy; Paula Luengo Kanacri – Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile, Chile; Ólafur Jónsson, University of Iceland, Iceland.

Supervisor: Prof. Maria Gerbino.

Role: Research Assistant - Adaptation of scales commonly used in cross-sectional studies for daily diary measurement; assisted with integrating baseline questionnaires and daily diary questionnaires into data collection platforms (i.e., Qualtrics, M-path); Participation in team meetings, including communication with the M-path application development team; participation in the pilot study phase; feedback collection from the pilot phase; data collection, cleaning and analysis.

Project description: to investigate whether and how empathy-related responding among adolescents can represent a strength factor for their prosocial and pro-environmental behaviors and well-being during their daily lives. Specifically, the role of sympathetic feelings toward others who are different from the participants based on criteria such as their country of origin, gender, religion, and ability/disabilities. Methodologically, a within-person encouragement design (WPED) is applied, an ecologically valid method, to prompt adolescents' sympathetic responses toward different targets to increase the causal interpretation of the effects of interest. The project involves adolescent samples from different countries, such as Italy, Chile, Scotland and Iceland.

Dates (2022-ongoing) PROViamo! Educare alla PROsocialità per VlrAre verso un Mondo più sostenibile

Department of Psychology, Sapienza University of Rome.
