01/02/2024 – Current

The overall objective of the project is to investigate and promote Prosocial Behaviour in adolescents and young adults.

The project activities will focus on:

- a. Preparation of batteries of questionnaires for adolescents and young adults;
- b. Preparation of the research protocol;
- c. Implementation of the project;
- d. Cleaning of collected data and data analysis;
- e. Dissemination.

Principal Investigator: Prof. Laura Di Giunta Rome, ItalyAddress Via dei Marsi, 87, 00185, Rome, ItalyOne year research fellowship titled "The assessment and promotion of psychological well-being from childhood to adolescence: from the family to the school context"

01/05/2022 – 04/2023

The overall objective of the project was to investigate the effectiveness of an intervention to promote social-emotional competencies in elementary school children. This intervention was implemented through a virtual platform created specifically for the project, in which children had the opportunity to discuss in small groups issues concerning social-emotional skills with the help of a virtual agent. The project activities covered:

- a. Preparation of batteries of questionnaires for teachers, students, and parents;
- b. Preparation of the research protocol;
- c. Implementation of the project;

- d. Cleaning of collected data and preliminary data analysis;
- e. Dissemination.

Post-graduate internship in Psychology of Personality and Individual Differences

09/2021 – 09/2022

As a post-graduate intern, I attended seminars taught by several national and international experts in the field of Personality and Developmental Psychology and Advanced Statistical Analysis. Furthermore, during the internship I learned about the different phases of a research project from the creation of the research study to the data cleaning and data analysis with SPSS and Mplus. I also participated in different research projects in which my Supervisor was involved.

Internship in Casa di Cura Villa l'Ulivo, Carmide S.r.l. di Catania - Polo di Riabilitazione multi specialistico

09/2017 – 07/2018

As a pre-graduate intern I had an active involvement in all aspects of patients psychological and neurological rehabilitation. Specifically, I had the opportunity to observe first-hand which training-programme was considered better for a patient specific need. I also administered and proceed with the scoring of questionnaires such as the Mini-Mental State Examination, the Rey Auditory Verbal Learning test (RAVLT); the Symptom Checklist-90-R (SCL-90-R); the Brief Neuropsychological Examination 2 (ENB2); Raven's Progressive Matrices (RPM), also the Wechsler Adult Intelligence Scale - Revised (WAIS - R), the Wisconsin Card Sorting Test (WCST).

RESEARCH EXPERIENCES

03/2024 - CURRENT

Promoting Social Inclusion and Psychological Well-being through Prosocial Functioning: From an Ecological-Causal Perspective to Intervention Design

Founded by Progetto PRIN 2022 (C7N58K) - Promoting Social Inclusion and Psychological Well-being through Prosocial Functioning: From an Ecological-Causal Perspective to Intervention Design.

Principal Investigators: Prof. Antonio Zuffianò (Sapienza University of Rome, Italy), Prof. Benedetta Emanuela Palladino (University of Florence, Italy).

Supervisor: Prof. Antonio Zuffianò

Role: Bibliographic research; support for inserting baseline questionnaires and daily diaries into the platform (m-Path); daily adaptation of scales typically used for cross-sectional studies; participation in team meetings; meetings with the creator of the m-Path application used for data collection; participation in the pilot study phase; feedback collection from the pilot phase; participation in the data collection phase; data cleaning; data analysis; participation in the second phase of the study: the interventions phase; creation of an intervention programme based on the results of the first phase of the study; implementation of the intervention programme.

Description of the project: This longitudinal intensive project aims to promote social inclusion among adolescents and young adults. Insights into the role of self-regulation and empathy in promoting social inclusion and overall well-being among young people in different contexts and social interactions are provided. Methodologically, emphasis is placed on the importance of within-person encouragement design (WPED) to evaluate causal relationships while keeping participants in their natural environments. In practical terms, participants will receive training in prosocial skills based on empirical research, aimed at cultivating socially inclusive behaviors.

11/2023 - CURRENT

Empathy-related responding, well-being, and prosocial functioning in adolescents' everyday life

Funded by John Templeton Foundation.

Principal Investigators: David Lundie, University of Glasgow (UK); Bernadette Paula Luengo Kanacri, Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile (UC); Ólafur Páll Jónsson, University of Iceland (ICLD); Antonio Zuffianò, Sapienza University of Rome (IT).

Supervisor: Prof. Antonio Zuffianò

Role: research assistant; contact with participants at school; bibliographic research; support for inserting the baseline questionnaire (Qualtrics) and daily questionnaires into the platform (M-path); daily adaptation of scales typically used for cross-sectional studies; participation in team meetings; participation in the pilot study phase; feedback collection from the pilot project; data cleaning.

Description of the project: the daily project, carried out in collaboration with other countries (United Kingdom, Iceland, Chile) aims at studying the role of empathic responses, important for the well-being of others, in relation to prosocial behaviors of adolescents in their daily life. Participants were adolescents from 14 to 16 years of age. Data were collected through questionnaires and daily diaries collected through Qualtrics and M-path online.

09/2021 – 12/2022

Effects of Feedback Sensitivity and Emotion Regulation on Learning and School Performance in Adolescents from Multiple Countries

Funded by Young Scholar Research Grant associated with the 2019 Jacobs Foundation Conference on "An Agenda for Research on Child Development and Learning for the Third Decade of the 21st Century". Jacobs Foundation, Switzerland.

Principal Investigators: Prof. Laura Di Giunta (Sapienza, University of Rome, Italy), Prof. Natasha Duell, (University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, USA).

Supervisor: Prof. Laura Di Giunta.

Role: research assistant; preparation of the battery of questionnaire to be administered to adolescents with mobile ecological momentary assessment (mEMA) via Qualtrics; remote data collection; data cleaning; data analysis; preliminary scientific reports.

Description of the project: the project examined the mediating role of emotion regulation in the association between feedback sensitivity and behavioural problems and prosocial behaviors in adolescence, through the use of mobile Ecological Momentary Assessment (mEMA) in a low-middle socio-economic status (SES) sample of Colombian adolescents.

A Virtual Agent Group Facilitator for a Holistic Student-Centric Approach to Academic and Socio-Emotional Learning

Funded by 2020 Jacobs Foundation COVID-19 Education Challenge Research Grant. Jacobs Foundation, Switzerland.

Principal Investigators: Prof. Laura Di Giunta (Sapienza, University of Rome, Italy), Prof. Goren Gordon (Tel Aviv University, Israel).

Supervisor: Prof. Laura Di Giunta.

Role: research assistant; bibliographic research; preparation of the consent forms; preparation of the activities for the participants; preparation of the battery of measures to be administered to parents, teachers, and children; training of junior team members; contact with schools and participants; data collection; data cleaning; data analysis, and preparation of the scientific reports.

Description of the project: the intervention programme aimed at improving children social-emotional competences through the use of an online mediator. Participants were selected from three elementary schools, two in Rome and one in Catania.

09/2021 – 03/2022

Parental Emotion Socialization in COVID-19 time – International Study

Supported by Jacobs Foundation, Switzerland.

Principal Investigator: Prof. Laura Di Giunta (Sapienza, University of Rome, Italy).

Supervisor: Prof. Laura Di Giunta.

Role: research assistant; preparation of the battery of measures to be administered to the participants; data collection via Qualtrics; data cleaning with SPSS. I also contributed to the preparation of the battery of questionnaires in Zimbabwe (language: English), in Azerbaijan (language: Azerbaijani), and in Colombia (language: Spanish) with Qualtrics.

Description of the project: remote cross-sectional data collection with a convenient sample of parents whose children were aged between 6 and 18 years old and who were in online education during Covid-19 pandemic in Italy.
